Target

Objective The purpose of the application is to offer users a quick and easy solution to choose the ideal destination for their vacations. Through personalized recommendations, it helps identify the place that best suits their preferences, ensuring that their experience is memorable and full of unforgettable moments to share with family and friends.

What problem does it solve?

This application addresses the difficulty many people face when planning a trip, especially when they are not sure which destination will meet their expectations in terms of space, activities and climate. Thanks to its practical approach, the system eliminates the need to spend long hours searching for the perfect place, facilitating efficient and personalized decision making.

Target Audience

The application is designed for people who want to plan a trip quickly, efficiently and without complications. The main target groups are:

- Undecided Travelers

People who want to travel, but are not sure which destination best suits their preferences, interests or lifestyle.

- Express travelers

Users who enjoy planning last-minute getaways and do not have a definite place in mind.

- Busy workers

Professionals with tight schedules who are looking for a simple and quick way to choose a destination to disconnect from routine.

- Families

Family groups who want to find destinations that offer recreational activities and options adapted to the interests of all family members.
